RARE PORT WINE

Ports below are absurdly rare. They are opened at the customers risk & will not be refunded in the extremely unlikely event that they are for any reason out of condition. We justify this on the basis that they are extraordinarily good value & it is worth the punt to make tasting history! The provenance for all these wines is excellent.

F2A1	Taylor’s 1985		MEMBERS	236.00	295.00

F1A2	Graham’s 1955		MEMBERS	1,172.00	1,465.00
	“One of my all-time favourite Ports...A big wine that has evolved perfectly... mature but rosy-cheeked; glorious bouquet, a fabulous fragrance erupting out of its depths. Sweet, refined, silky yet still tannic, fleshy yet firm”. Michael Broadbent
F1B2	Taylor’s 1955		MEMBERS	1,160.00	1,450.00
	A tremendous year and one of quantity and quality which the trade badly needed. Taylor '55 is another legend; massive, super-concentrated and with a backbone of iron, it is stunning now and like the best of the '55s will drink well for some time to come.

MAGNUM

F1B1	Fonseca 1963		MEMBERS	1,760.00	2,200.00
	From a legendary vintage! Warm, spiced, stewed fruits, smoke, mint and red cherry and has decades of life ahead of it. Fonseca’s tasting note: "Very harmonious, full mouth. Wonderfully complex. Silky texture; gloriously smooth and almost voluptuous in its volume."

LOWLANDS

There's more distillation in the Lowlands than any other Scottish region, but its days as a significant single malt player are consigned to history. This is the home of the blend, and of the large quantities of grain whisky which form its foundation – but a few producers keep up the trademark light and grassy Lowland malt style.

AUCHENTOSHAN (OCHun–TOShun)

Founded by Irish refugees in 1825 on the outskirts of Glasgow, Auchentoshan is one of the last active distilleries in the Lowlands. In common with other Lowland (and Irish) whiskies, Auchentoshan malt whisky is distilled three times (as opposed to most Scottish malt whisky, which is distilled twice). This triple-distillation has the effect of softening the flavour and body of the end product.

BLADNOCH (BLADnoch)

Scotland's most southerly working distillery has an echoing connection with Northern Ireland. Built in 1817, the distillery as sold in 1911 by the founding McLelland family to the Belfast based whisky merchant Dunville & Co., who made their own whiskey in Ireland but were in need of stocks of Scotch to fulfil customer demand. As of July 2016, Bladnoch was scheduled to resume production by spring of 2017, with much new equipment, including four 5 tonne mash tuns, six Douglas Fir wooden washbacks, two 12,500 litre capacity wash stills, two 9,500 litre capacity low wines stills, and a steam boiler that will be fuelled with LPG. In late 2016, Prior officially relaunched Bladnoch, and announced three new expressions, created from aged stocks by master distiller Ian MacMillan: the no age statement Samsara, the 15-year-old Adela and the 25-year-old Talia.

BD01	Bladnoch Vinaya	46.7%	£16.40

Boisdale recommends Larkfire Wild Whisky Water with your dram @£2.00 supplement.

GLENKINCHIE (glen KINsee)

Founded in 1825 in the outlying farmland around Edinburgh as Milton distillery (before being renamed in 1837), Glenkinchie languished in obscurity for over 150 years before becoming an international brand almost overnight at the end of the 1980s. Prior to this time, the distillery's main claims to fame were as one of the five original Lowland distillers to found Scottish Malt Distillers Ltd; and as one of very few distilleries to continue production throughout the Second World War.

BA18	Blair Athol 18yr Rigby's Bottling	43%	£31.40
-------------	--	-----	---------------

"After a sodden but rewarding day in the field, your mind drifts to the thought of lighting the woodburner and sinking your weary body into your favourite leather wingback. The only other element missing from this inviting image is a single malt. Relishing a whisky while penning notes in your tatty game book is the tranquil moment that rounds off a challenging day impeccably. An experience shared with a Rigby single malt is an experience doubled."

BRORA (Mothballed) (BRORa)

A cult malt with a sad story to tell. Originally known as Clynelish, this distillery became a victim of its own success when a new distillery was built alongside it to increase capacity only a few years before the slump of the late Seventies and early Eighties. The new distillery took over the name, and the old distillery was renamed and limped on until being mothballed in 1983.

BR30	Brora 30 Year Old - 3rd Release (Special Release 2004)	55.7%	£189.75

DALMORE (dalMORE)

Dalmore distillery was built in 1839 by Alexander Matheson, who immediately leased it to the Sunderland family, who ran it for over thirty years until 1869, when the lease was taken over by three Mackenzie brothers, Alexander, Charles and Andrew.

DA12	Dalmore 12yr	40%	£21.40
-------------	---------------------	------------	---------------

Dalmore 12 is aged for the first nine years in American white oak ex-bourbon casks, before half is transferred to ex-oloroso sherry casks for the final three years. The result is a whisky with a combination of sweetness and rich, sherried flavours.

DA15	Dalmore 15yr	40%	£28.50

-------------	---------------------	------------	---------------

The 18 year old malt is as rich, fruity and spicy as you could ever want from a Dalmore. Kudos to Richard Paterson for creating another veritable chocolate orange of a whisky - a sure-fire hit, and great for the colder months. It is aged for 14 years in American oak, followed by three years in Matusalem sherry butts, before a final year in sherry butts.

Boisdale recommends Larkfire Wild Whisky Water with your dram @£2.00 supplement.

DALWHINNIE (dalWHINnie)

Dalwhinnie was the highest working distillery in Scotland between 2002 and 2008, but the re-opening of Braeval in July of that year has robbed the distillery of that title. However, the villagers can take cold comfort from the fact that their Grampian location still retains the lowest average annual temperature in Scotland (6°C).

DW15 Dalwhinnie 15yr	43%	£18.20
Elegant, smooth and medium-bodied with a light, fruity palate and a whiff of heather on the finish.	MEM	£14.60

DEANSTON (deanston)

Deanston is housed in a former cotton mill in the central Highlands that dates back to the late eighteenth century. The buildings were converted into a distillery in 1966. It was acquired by Invergordon in 1972, but ceased production in 1982 and was mothballed until 1990, when it was bought and re-opened by Burn Stewart Distillers.

A 2015 addition to the Deanston range, this expression has been matured for 12 years, including a finishing period in first fill Kentucky bourbon casks. It was bottled without chill filtration at 46.3% ABV. Oodles of rich honey, luxurious vanilla, sugary shortbread and a touch of fresh ginger.

EDRADOUR (edraDAUWer)

Edradour is one of the smallest distilleries in Scotland. Production is overseen by just three men, including the distillery manager, and the distillery's output is just 12 barrels (600 gallons) per week from four wash runs.

ED10 Edradour 10yr	40%	£16.90
Edradour is one of Scotland's smallest distilleries and at the heart of the range, this 10 year old Eastern Highlander is a rather unique single malt, a decidedly rum-like dram with a thick mouthfeel.	MEM	£13.60

Boisdale recommends Larkfire Wild Whisky Water with your dram @£2.00 supplement.

GLENCADAM (glen Kadam)

This pretty and immaculately maintained distillery opened for business in 1825, just one year after legitimate distilling on a large scale was legalized. Since then a number of owners have operated the distillery and produced Glencadam malt in their blends. Happily, each owner was careful not to spoil the charming character of Glencadam.

GLENDRONACH (glen DRONach)

Glendronach was founded in 1826 by James Allardice (also spelt Allardyce and Allardes), and almost completely destroyed by fire a decade later. After the rebuild, Allardice - a colourful character - is rumoured to have accidentally ensured the popularity of his whisky in Edinburgh in the 1840s by gifting a quantity of it to some local prostitutes after a failed sales trip to the city.

Its principal product is an eponymous 12-year-old single malt whisky. Oban distillery is a whisky distillery in the Scottish west coast port of Oban. Established in 1794, it was built before the town of the same name, which sprung up later in the surrounding craggy harbour. It has only two pot stills, making it one of the smallest in Scotland, producing a whisky that has been described as having a "West Highland" flavour that falls between the dry, smoky style of the Scottish islands and the lighter, sweeter malts of the Highlands.

Oban is a superb full bodied fruity malt with a whiff of heather and more than a hint of smoke.

The distillery produces the Old Pulteney single malt whisky at a number of ages. TEANINICH (thaiNINich)

Teaninich is a whisky distillery in Alness. It was founded and built in 1817 by Hugh Munro on his estate of Teaninich Castle. In 2000 a mash filter press was installed in the distillery, which is unique in Scottish malt whisky production; all other Scottish whisky distilleries use mash tuns. In April 2013 owner Diageo announced a new renovation of the distillery. They also announced a new distillery with 16 new stills will be placed next to the old distillery. The distillery mainly produces malts for blending, and it is used in Johnnie Walker Red Label.

TE10 Teaninich 10yr 43% £16.60

TOMATIN (tomàTIN)

Tomatin distillery is a single malt Scotch whisky distillery in the village of Tomatin. Its whisky is classified as being from the Highland region, as it is 25 minutes south of Inverness. The distillery operated with only two stills until 1958. Starting at that time, they began to add stills to increase production capacity. Around eighty percent of Tomatin's whisky goes into blended whisky, including its own brands of Antiquary and Talisman.

TO12 Tomatin 12yr 40% £16.50

Tomatin was once the largest distillery in Scotland with 23 stills and a production capacity of 12 million litres of alcohol per year. These days capacity is down to 5 million litres, the majority of which goes into the delicious Antiquary blend. This sherry-finished version was relaunched in 2010 and is a noticeable improvement on the old 12yo.

Geographically, Speyside is a region in Morayshire within the Highlands of Scotland. For whisky purposes, it is distinguished as a sub-region of the Highlands due to the concentration of distilleries in the area and some stylistic similarities between them. Broadly speaking, Speyside whiskies can be classified as falling into one of two camps. At one end of the spectrum there are the light, grassy, 'lunchtime whiskies' such as Glenlivet; at the other end lie the rich, sweet, sherried qualities of Glenrothers and Macallan.

ABERLOUR (aberLOUR)

Situated at the junction of the rivers Lour and Spey, the distillery is surrounded by glorious scenery, dominated by the rugged peaks of Ben Rinnes a short distance away. Pure spring water for making the whisky is drawn from the Lour, and the maturing spirit in the warehouse beneficially inhales the moist Speyside air. Aberlour is an ancient place as well as a beautiful one. For more than 1,400 years there has been a community there and signs of its long heritage are all around, from the age-old oak trees above Linn Falls to the mysterious standing stones on Fairy Hill.

AUCHROISK (ar-thrusk)

The Auchroisk distillery is a whisky distillery in Banffshire. It was established after Dorie's Well was discovered and found to have water similar to the water used by the Glen Spey distillery, which was used by J&B to produce malt whisky for their blends. The distillery is a hub for vatting Auchroisk with the highland whiskies used in J&B before being shipped off for marrying and bottling. Auchroisk, means shallow ford across the red stream in Gaelic, referring to the nearby Mulben Burn.

The site was chosen by Smith both for its proximity to the waters of the Craggan burn and because it was close to the Strathspey Railway. The stills used in the second distillation (the spirit still) of Cragganmore whisky are unique in having a flat top and being relatively short. The stills' shape has a definite effect on the taste and aroma (nose) of the whisky.

Despite being a very well-respected single malt, Dailuaine has never been a part of Diageo's Classic Malts range, and very few official bottlings have been released. For the same reason, independent bottlings are few and far between. The Flora and Fauna 16 year-old bottling remains the main expression, and is much-praised for its assertive, sweet, richly-sherried profile.

The two distillery ran concurrently until 1985, when the original distillery was mothballed and converted into a workshop for distillery engineers. During this time, the malt from the two distilleries was vatted together, a practice that would not be permitted these days.

The water source is the Robbie Dhu springs. GLENLOSSIE (glen LOSSee)

Glenlossie is a whisky brand near Elgin, Scotland. The distillery was founded in 1876 by John Duff. The water of the distillery belonging to the Speyside region comes from Bardon Burn, as is the nearby Mannochmore distillery. Given that Glenlossie was named as one of only twelve 'top class' malts by blenders in 1974, it is perhaps surprising that the distillery is so little-known. The reason, however, is easy to determine - the blender's high regard means that demand for Glenlossie remains extremely high, and as a result less than 1% of the distillery's output is kept back for single malt.

GL10	Glenlossie 10yr 'Flora and Fauna'	43%	£18.65
Very little seen Glenlossie, Diageo's blend fodder Speyside workhorse. The only distillery bottling of Glenlossie, other than a Manager's Dram. Almost all of their whisky goes into Diageo's blends, which is a shame as this is a classic spicy Speysider

GV73	The Glenlivet 1973 Cellar Collection	49%	£259.00

Bursting with big juicy sweet orange flavours combined with rich sherry sweetness and freshly baked moist ginger bread notes. The fruity flavours are very reminiscent of fruit drop boiled sweets. GLEN SPEY (glen spey)

The Glen Spey distillery is a single malt Scotch whisky distillery in Rothes, Aberlour, Banffshire at the centre of the Speyside whisky producing area of Scotland. Glen Spey (along with Glenlossie and Strathmill) continues to use 'purifiers'. Purifiers act as small condensers, returning a proportion of the alcohol vapours back to the pot to be re-distilled. So, this would increase the amount of 'reflux' within the pot stills. This results in a lighter spirit.

INCHGOWER (inch'gawwer)

Located on the outskirts of Buckie, Moray, Scotland. The distillery was built in 1871. The distillations of Inchgower contribute a major component of Bell's blended whisky. The Inchgower is classified as a Lower Speyside Malt and takes its water from a burn rising in the Menduff Hills to the south of Buckie.

JOHN CRABBIE

	This 12-year-old single is from an undisclosed Island distillery. Grassy, malty notes and a long smoky finish.

KININVIE

The Kininvie distillery is a distillery in Dufftown, Moray. It is one of the youngest distilleries in Scotland, began production on 4 July 1990. The product from the distillery is used in blended malt and blended whisky brands. The liquid used by the Kininvie Distillery in their wash backs was piped from the Balvenie distillery some 200 meters away.

LINKWOOD (link wood)

The Linkwood Distillery is situated in Elgin. The distillery was built in 1821. Linkwood has long been prized by blenders, and the vast majority of production goes into Johnnie Walker and White Horse blends.

LI12	Linkwood 12yr Flora & Fauna	43%	£17.70

THE MACALLAN (macALan)

Macallan is the most sought-after whisky for collectors, and here you'll find a huge range of Macallan Scotch whisky. Over the past four decades, Macallan has built probably the best reputation for quality malt whisky; rare expressions can change hands for thousands of pounds, and prices for such bottles are continuously going up. Macallan has built its enviable reputation by focusing on the fact that they mature their core range in 100% sherry oak barrels.

MC12	Macallan 12yr Double Cask	40%	£22.70
	Macallan 12 Year Old Double Cask has been aged in a combination of American oak and ex-sherry casks. This is a rich whisky which combines fruity citrus and caramel with spicy ginger and nutmeg.
MC01	Macallan 12yr Sherry Oak	40%	£25.50
	Deliciously smooth, with rich dried fruits and sherry, balanced with wood smoke and spice.
MC30	Macallan 30yr Fine Oak	43%	£282.80
	Thirty year old Macallan is a rare and rarefied whisky. The time spent maturing in carefully selected European and American oak casks which have previously held Sherry or Bourbon creates a rich, intense liquid, with a deep colour achieved wholly naturally through the interaction between spirit and wood.
MC46	Macallan 1946 56yr	44.3%	£2718.40
	This Macallan 1946 is rather unusual, in that it was made with peated malt due to the high post war prices of coal. It also happens to be one of the greatest Macallans ever released in our opinion. The initial release of this was quite large and took a while for the distillery to sell, but it is now recognised as a classic Macallan and its reputation is assured

It is this soft Speyside water that is acknowledged as a distinctive characteristic in the unique flavour and bouquet of this classic single malt. Although no longer in use, Speyburn is the only distillery in Scotland to retain 'drum malting's'.

Island single malts is a general term for single malt Scotch whiskies produced on the islands around the perimeter of the Scottish mainland. The islands (excluding Islay) are not recognised in the Scotch Whisky Regulations as a distinct whisky producing region, but are considered to be part of the Highland region.[1] Islay is itself recognised as a distinct whisky producing region (see Islay whisky). The whiskies produced on the Islands are extremely varied and have few similarities, though can often be distinguished from other whisky regions by generally having a smokier flavour with peaty undertones.

HIGHLAND PARK (highland park)

Established in 1798 on Orkney, Highland Park is one of the most remote Scotch whisky distilleries in the world. This northerly island location gives access to unique heather peat from the distillery's own moor, water from the same spring that has fed the distillery for more than 200 years, and the cool, maritime climate that allows the spirit to interact with the carefully-chosen oak casks and develop into the fabulously rich, layered whisky that is consistently lauded by connoisseurs and experts.

CAMPBELTOWN

Campbeltown was once a thriving malt whisky region of no fewer than 34 distilleries – no mean feat for a small and remote settlement at the bottom of the long Kintyre peninsula. Now only three producers remain, but they make up for their paucity by producing five distinctive malt whiskies between them. Campbeltown's whisky-making fame endured the length of the 1800s, and even after its 34 distilleries were all but halved in number by a slump in the 1850s, its distinctive style was still highly prized at the dawn of the 20th century. What followed was a catastrophic fall from grace, brought about by a number of factors, including improved transportation links to the rival distilleries of the remote north, and a decline in quality as unscrupulous distillers cut corners and churned out mass-produced rotgut.

ISLAY

The southernmost of its island chain, Islay is known as ‘The Queen of the Hebrides’ – and is certainly the reigning monarch of a typically smoky, peaty style of single malt whisky. But there’s much more to this beating heart of distillation, which has eight active producers – and more to come. Amid all the talk of Islay’s famous active distilleries, the island also boasts one of the most legendary of ‘lost’ producers: Port Ellen, which closed its doors in 1983. Its strongly smoky, turfy flavours were an artist’s study of the most typical Islay style and its whiskies remain among the most sought-after

ARDBEG (ardBEG)

Ardbeg Distillery is a Scotch whisky distillery in Ardbeg on the south coast of the isle of Islay, Argyll and Bute, Scotland, in the Inner Hebrides group of islands and was founded in 1815. It produces a heavily peated Isla whisky and uses malted barley sourced from the malting's in Port Ellen. Ardbeg seldom release whiskies with age statements. Ardbeg often bottles its whisky at a higher alcohol by volume (abv) than the minimum 40%, and they no longer chill filter their whisky. Both of these measures are thought to yield a more full-flavoured whisky.

AG02	Ardbeg Uigeadail	54.2%	£22.00
	A fine drop of Ardbeg bottled at cask strength. A marriage of Ardbeg from bourbon barrels and sherry butts which gives a sweet and smoky finish to this malt. Uigeadail is the loch from which all Ardbeg water flows. An absolutely stunning whisky, and following the demise of Airigh nam Beist, this probably represents the best value in the core range.
AG03	Ardbeg Corryvreckan	57.1%	£25.20
	As a replacement for the much-loved 1990 Airigh nam Beist, Ardbeg Corryvreckan had some pretty big shoes to fill, but the good news is that this is a belter, winning World's Best Single Malt Whisky at the World Whisky Awards 2010 and Best No Age Statement Scotch from Jim Murray's Whisky Bible.
AG25	Ardbeg 25 Year Old Lord of the Isles	46%	£223.00
	At 25 years old this whisky embodies the richness, depth and sweetness of all Ardbegs. Light gold in colour and powerful in character. A phenomenal, much-sought-after bottling of a really outstanding malt.

BOWMORE (bowMORE)

Bowmore was the first of Islay's distilleries to receive a licence, springing fully-formed into official existence in 1779. It is likely that the founder of the distillery, one William Simson, had been distilling in Bowmore since shortly after his arrival in 1766, at a time when Daniel Campbell the Younger (the laird of the island) was expanding the village into the island's capital. The distillery passed through four owners before 1963, when it was bought by the Morrison family, who sold to the Japanese whisky company Suntory in 1994.

BW12	Bowmore 12yr	40%	£15.70
The heart of the Bowmore range, the 12 year old exhibits some beautiful coastal notes with a gentle peat, it is the balance that the floral element presents that makes this a great entry bottling for Bowmore.
BW15	Bowmore 15yr Darkest	43%	£22.70
A 15 year old released in January of 2007 from the legendary Bowmore distillery in Islay. This single malt has enjoyed maturation in Oloroso sherry casks. Dark and punchy with sherry notes, juicy Corinth raisins and spices. Creamy, mochaccino and sweet dates. Spicy, toffee with sherry and barley.
BW18	Bowmore 18yr	43%	£32.20
A popular expression in Bowmore's ongoing range, this replaced the 17 year old, which was phased out a few years ago. Fresh, with notes of salty kippers and coal smoke.
BW25	Bowmore 25yr	43%	£83.00
A 25 year old from the Bowmore distillery aged in American bourbon and Spanish sherry casks. The sherry influence combines wonderfully with the coastal, smoky distillery style to create a sublime aged single malt.

BRUICHLADDICH (BROOìch-LADDich)

Bruichladdich Distillery is a distillery on the Rhinns of the isle of Islay, the westernmost part of the island and was founded in 1881. The distillery produces mainly single malt Scotch whisky, but has also offered artisanal gin. One interpretation of the Gaelic word Bruichladdich is "stony shore bank", referring to a post-glacial raised beach, though an alternative, perhaps more pertinent translation may be "rocky lee shore". All the distillery's whiskies are sold as single malts, with those designated Bruichladdich being unpeated. All barley used is exclusively Scottish, some of which has been grown on Islay since 2004.

BR01	Bruichladdich Classic Laddie	50%	£19.50

BUNNAHABHAIN (boonaHAAven)

The Bunnahabhain distillery lies on the peaceful, sheltered north-eastern coast of Islay, the most southerly of the Hebridean Islands. Built in 1881 its name comes from the Gaelic, Bunnahabhain (Bu-na-ha-ven), meaning 'mouth of the river', a reference to the Margadale, the river from whose clear Spring waters the whisky is distilled. A very lightly peated malted barley is then used for distillation. This is why Bunnahabhain is known as a more subtle of the Islay Malts, with a distinctive oiliness and whiff of sea air that set it apart from the almost universally peaty whiskies that are produced on the island. While the distillery does now also release smoky drams, it's the distinctively oily and almost entirely unpeated whisky that has made its name with whisky fans around the world.

BU12 Bunnahabhain 12yr	46.3%	£17.55

A giant leap forward for Bunnahabhain 12yo, this edition was launched in summer 2010 with a jump in strength to 46.3% and a declaration of no chill-filtration and no added colouring.

CAOL ILA (COOL-eelah)

Caol Ila Distillery is a Scotch whisky distillery near Port Askaig. Caol Ila is derived from Gaelic for "Sound of Islay" in reference to the distillery's location overlooking the strait between Islay and Jura. It was founded in 1846 by Hector Henderson. Caol Ila is one of the lighter Islay whiskies, pale in colour, with peaty, floral and peppery notes. In addition to being sold as a single malt, it is used heavily (around 95% of their production) in blends such as Johnnie Walker and Black Bottle. Since 1999, the distillery has also produced a non-peated "highland spirit".

This malt is a fantastically balanced Islay with wheat beer/cloves and wet grass/light salt fish subtleties.

KILCHOMAN (kill-ho-man)

The Kilchoman distillery is situated on the western side of Islay, near the small settlement of Kilchoman. The location made it the most westerly distillery in Scotland, until the Abhainn Dearg Distillery started distilling on the Isle of Lewis. The distillery began production in June 2005 and uses barley grown on site at Rockside Farm and malted at the distillery, as well as malt from the Port Ellen maltings and releases separate bottlings depending on the source of the grain. The whisky will primarily age in bourbon casks, though sherry casks will also be employed.

LAGAVULIN (lagaVOOlin)

The distillery of Lagavulin officially dates from 1816. Lagavulin is almost exclusively matured in ex-bourbon casks, meaning its fiery, uncompromising smoke and salted fish character comes storming out of the glass unhindered. Lagavulin's richly peaty process water runs down the brown burn to the distillery from the Solan Lochs in the hills above the distillery. The barley used to distil Lagavulin is malted at nearby Port Ellen and has a strong peat "reek" - it has perhaps twenty times as much exposure to peat smoke as a typical Speyside, Cragganmore. It has converted untold numbers of people to whisky-drinking and remains the firm favourite of countless malt fans worldwide.

LAPHROAIG (laFROIG)

Laphroaig distillery is named for the area of land at the head of Loch Laphroaig on the south coast of the Isle of Islay and was established in 1815. Laphroaig has been the only whisky to carry the Royal Warrant of the Prince of Wales, which was awarded in person during a visit to the distillery in 1994. The 15-year-old was reportedly the prince's favourite Scotch whisky. Laphroaig calls itself "the most richly flavoured of all Scotch whiskies" and has a peaty/smoky flavour.

PORT ASKAIG (port ASS-kaig)

A mystery single malt whisky, produced on Islay and selected to demonstrate the character of the whiskies from the island. The single malts of Islay are arguably Scotland's most talked-about whiskies and are recognised for their sweet, fruity flavours and smoky, peaty character. Port Askaig is a range of single Islay malt whiskies aiming to achieve the perfect balance of these flavours and embody the unique spirit of Islay and its people.

PORT ELLEN (port ellen)

The Port Ellen distillery is located in Port Ellen. It was established as a malt mill in 1825, and then developed as a distillery under John Ramsay from 1833 to 1892. It continued in production throughout the 1970s and was closed in 1983, where it now houses a malting which continues to supply all Islay distilleries. Port Ellen is a versatile malt, with considerable differences of style evident between different bottlings. Some sherry-casked Port Ellen can be beautifully rich, spicy, sweet and leathery; bourbon and refill casks often show a more austere, peppery medium-weighted style.

CUTTY SARK

It was on 23 March 1923 that the Berry's partners decided to create a new brand of blended Scotch whisky to appeal to American drinkers – Cutty Sark, named after the famous British clipper ship that had recently docked in London. During the latter part of that year cases of Cutty Sark were smuggled into the US to appease demand from drinkers with exquisite tastes – unsatisfied with the often foul-tasting moonshine liquor that were dark from added caramel colour, they sought something more refined in goods smuggled into the country.

GRANT'S

In 1886, William Grant started working in the distillery business as a bookkeeper. In 1898, Pattison's, the largest Scotch whisky blender at the time, suddenly went bankrupt and William Grant stepped in and launched Grant's whisky. William built the Glenfiddich Distillery in Dufftown, Scotland and on Christmas Day, 1887, it produced its first drops of spirit.

Every type of Johnnie Walker scotch has a label colour. The purpose is to denote the different types of scotch and to position them to be used for different occasions. For example, Johnnie Walker Blue Label is rare and expensive, and so it is intended to be used for special occasions.

GRAIN WHISKIES

To the uninitiated, grain whiskies are the filler in blends, knitting together the real flavour from the single malts and – since they’re typically cheaper to make – keeping the price down. Unfair.

Apart from giving real flavour and texture to blends, well-made grain whiskies have a distinct character all their own.

CAMERONBRIDGE

Though there is little hard evidence, Robert Haig was said to have operated the earliest whisky distillery and certainly the earliest ever referenced. It was in 1655, that he was frowned upon by church elders for using his still on the Sabbath and was summoned to appear before the Kirk Session. In 1824, one of his descendants, John Haig, built the Cameron Bridge distillery in Windygates in the Lowlands and it was one of the first distilleries to produce grain whisky.

GLOSSARY

ABV – alcohol by volume is the alcoholic strength measured as the percentage of alcohol present.

Age Statement – gives the age of the youngest component of the whisky. In Scotland the minimum that this can be, by law, is 3 years. Maturation stops at bottling.

Angel's Share – the tiny portion of alcohol that evaporates from a cask during maturation. This is approximately 2% of the contents of a cask per year in the UK.

Blended (vatted) Malt – a whisky made up of two or more single malts which have been blended together. This way the drink can be more consistently 'tuned' to bring out a particular character. Consequently the whisky can taste slightly less hard-core, so can be a good place to start for beginners. No grain whisky allowed.

Blended Scotch – a whisky which contains a variable amount of blended malt and grain whiskies. Usually there will be about 40% malt to 60% grain. The final taste is called a 'top dressing', which is a highlight in itself.

Cask Strength – also known as barrel proof, this describes the ABV use for a whisky during its time in a cask when maturing. This usually knocks around the 60-65% mark.

Casks – the wooden barrels used to mature whisky, usually made from oak. They come in all sorts of shapes and sizes.

Charring – burning the inside of the cask. The blackened result accelerates the leakage of natural compounds from the wood to the whisky.

Chill Filtration – when natural substances which make whisky go cloudy are removed before bottling. Metal meshes and chilling are involved, in a process which some would describe as 'a faff'.

Cooper – the highly skilled person who makes the casks.

Distillation – the process wherein the whisky wash is heated in the still, causing the alcohol vapours to evaporate, travel along the lyne arm, and condense back into a liquid again. Whisky is often double or triple distilled.

Distillery – the production site of whisky, the true birth place.

Dram – the traditional Scottish name for a glass of whisky.

Fermentation – the process of converting sugars into carbon dioxide and alcohol, with the addition of yeast and enzymes. Once there is enough alcohol, the yeast dies.

Floor Malting – an old school way of producing malted barley, by soaking it in water and laying it out on a wooden floor for about a week until germination starts to happen. This method is labour intensive as the barley is turned by hand.

Boisdale recommends Larkfire Wild Whisky Water with your dram @£2.00 supplement.

Graff – any grain husks or residue left over after mashing, this is usually then recycled as cattle feed.

Grain Whisky – the raw materials here tend to be unmalted barley, wheat or maize.

Grist – malted barley which has been ground beyond recognition, into a powder which can be added to water to become mash. The natural sugars can then dissolve into the liquid.

Malt – barley which has been encouraged to germinate by being soaked in water, before being dried out to stop it germinating any more. Basically, we mess the barley around to the point where the starch is converted into soluble compounds which makes fermentation possible.

Malt Kiln – the huge oven of a room in which barley is heated to stop the germination process and remove moisture, in preparation for milling. These can either be fuelled by peat, coal or oil.

Malt Whisky – the raw base of malt whisky is barley malt, fermented with a bit of yeast for good luck. Generally this kind of whisky is seen as far superior to the common grain whisky used for blends.

Marrying – mixing two types of whisky together.

Mash Tun – the vessel in which the mashing occurs.

Mashing – this is the bit where grist is added and crushed in warm water, so that the natural sugars can dissolve to make a syrupy solution before fermentation. All of this take place in a large tank called a mash tun, and the solution is called wort. The wort is eventually passed to the washback tank ready for fermentation.

Master Blender – the lucky devil who selects and mixes whiskies of different origins to achieve enviable flavour profiles.

Maturation – the time taken for a whisky to gain its optimum level of character from the wooden cask in which it is stored. All sorts of wonderful things happen here; natural oils being passed off from the wood being just one of them.

Milling – grinding the dried malted barley into grist.

Monkey Shoulder – the repetitive strain injury that commonly occurred after floor malting.

Mothballed – the act of closing a distillery indefinitely to be revisited or reused in the future.

NAS – No Age Statement whisky does not reveal its age. In Scotland, it will still be at least 3 years old as this is the minimum legal requirement.

Neat – whisky served on its own, straight up, showing off.

Nose – the aroma of whisky; a spirit so great that it has its own word for ‘smelling’ which is, you got it, ‘nosing’.

Peat – decomposed vegetation which forms a bog, but can then be cut in slices to lace malt kilns during the whisky production. It might not sound gourmet, but peat gives Scotch its smacks of smokiness.

Pot Still – usually made from copper, thanks to magical conductive skills, these are essentially huge kettles, or pots, in which the whisky wash is heated. The vapour runs through the neck and starts condensing in the lyne arm.

PPM – the abbreviation of parts per million, the scientific measurement which represents the amount of phenols present in whisky, which will have been absorbed by the burning of peat.

Proof – traditionally means ‘of tried strength and quality’, but in basic terms it is typically defined as twice the percentage of alcohol by volume. It’s the way Americans like to determine alcoholic strength...so 50% ABV is 100 proof. Or 50% ABV, as you were.

Scotch – whisky that has been exclusively matured and distilled in Scotland.

Scotch on the rocks – the act of enjoying your whisky with ice, otherwise known as whisky suicide.

Single Malt – a whisky by this definition has been produced solely in one distillery, and has not been blended with any ingredients or produce from elsewhere. However, the whisky could contain several whiskies which have been produced over a couple of years.

Tasting notes – describe the flavour of whisky.

Wash – the alcoholic liquid which is used to make whisky.

Wash Still – stills usually operate as double acts and this is the first and largest of the two. The second round of distillation happens in the spirit still.

Washback – the massive stainless steel (or wooden) vat in which fermentation takes place.

Whisky – knowing what whisky is, is a great start to becoming a connoisseur of the stuff. The barley based brilliance bore its name from the Scottish and Irish Gaelic phrase ‘uisge beatha’, or ‘water of life’, and gradually worked its way into being just “whisky”.

Wort – the questionable word for the sugary solution that goes forward to the fermentation process.
