Black Tot 'The Last Consignment' 309

Ripe Dark Fruits, Muscavado, Walnuts

July 31st marks the last day the Royal British Navy ended the century long tradition of passing rum rations to their sailors, this became known as 'Black Tot Day'. The leftover rum was barrelled, stored and seldom touched until now. There's no way to know how old the specific blend of rum is, but experts estimate some distillates were distilled in the 1950s.

Havana Club Covina Atmosphere 'Union' 245

Smoked Wood, Coconut, Coffee, Dried Fruits, Citrus

A delightful Cuban rum blended specifically to showcase 2 of Cuba's biggest industries; rum and cigars. In this case, Cohiba Cigars sommelier Fernando Fernandez Milan teamed up with Havana Club's Maestro Roñero Asbel Morales to craft the perfect rum to pair with a quality Cuban cigar.
