Čevapčići , aka 'chevapi', are delicious, expertly grilled sausages permeated with a unique smoky flavour. They originated in the Balkans during the period of Ottoman rule, and are said to have been the staple campfire food of the Hajduks or Freedom Fighters. Today, these humble but flavoursome skinless sausages made with finely ground quality meat, combined with chopped onions, garlic and spices, are celebrated as the quintessential Balkan street food. One bite, and you taste the history of the Balkans.
