About

Founded in 1999 by former chemistry teacher David Baker, Bakery Hill was the only mainland Australian whisky distillery for around a decade. Driven to prove world-class single malt whisky isn't exclusive to Scotland, Bakery Hill crafts bold, complex expressions using just malted barley, yeast, and water. All whiskies are single cask and aged for at least 6–8 years. The name reflects a historic Australian uprising, mirroring the brand's independent spirit. Now, production continues at their new Kensington distillery, opened in early 2024. Welcome to Bakery Hill - mainland Australia's original whisky distillery
