

GIN : London Dry

What is London Dry Gin?

The term London Dry Gin is the most strict of the few distilled gin categories, and is a process designation. That means it doesn't technically mean a flavour because that's a subjective and pretty unenforceable standard, although the wider categorisation of gin requires a predominantly juniper-forward flavour. It's also NOT a geographical designation & NEVER has been. Instead, a series of EU regulations put in place in February 2008 dictates that a London dry gin must be produced exclusively by distilling ethyl alcohol of agricultural origin (normally grain). It also must also be distilled to an initial alcoholic strength of at least 96% ABV. This is only really possible in a column still, and achieving that strength means the basis for London dry gin is a neutral spirit. The law then states the spirit must be distilled again to at least 70% ABV "in the presence of juniperus communis L. and other botanicals." Any additional flavours must be sourced through the distillation of 'natural plant materials'. Following distillation, producers will then dilute the gin before bottling. London dry gin regulations state that the minimum strength it can be watered down to is 37.5% ABV and no artificial ingredients (flavouring or colourings) can be added. To meet the 'dry' designation, it cannot be sweetened in excess of 0.1 grams per litre with sweetening products, a trivial amount.

GIN : Distilled Gin

(a) Distilled gin is:

(i) a juniper-flavoured spirit drink produced exclusively by redistilling organoleptically suitable ethyl alcohol of agricultural origin of an appropriate quality with an initial alcoholic strength of at least 96 % vol. in stills traditionally used for gin, in the presence of juniper berries (Juniperus communis) and of other natural botanicals provided that the juniper taste is predominant, or (ii) the mixture of the product of such distillation and ethyl alcohol of agricultural origin with the same composition, purity and alcoholic strength; natural and/or nature-identical flavouring substances and/or flavouring preparations as specified in category 20(c) may also be used to flavour distilled gin.

(b) The minimum alcoholic strength by volume of distilled gin shall be 37.5 %.

(c) Gin obtained simply by adding essences or flavourings to ethyl alcohol of agricultural origin is not distilled gin.

GIN : Flavoured

'Flavoured gin' is a term that has become more well-known in recent years thanks to spirits that are pushing the boundaries of what a traditional gin is - by adding new aromatics and flavours that are more dominant than the juniper. A gin is usually classed as a 'flavoured gin' when the flavours are added after distillation. The difference between a flavoured gin & a flavoured vodka used to be that gin must use natural flavouring and vodka can use anything ie toffee or candyfloss.

GIN : Old Tom & Genever

OLD TOM - Old Tom style gin is the precursor to London Dry. Popular during the 18th Century it is sweeter to mask the residual taste of the badly made distillates before the column still came along to enable a much purer and higher strength base spirit.

GENEVER - The Dutch national drink & has been since the 16th Century. Genever is the Dutch word for Juniper. Traditionally made with Maltwine (triple distillate of corn, wheat & rye) makes it much more whisky like than the Gins we are used to in UK. Possibly brought to England by William of Orange in 1688 when he took the throne from James II

GIN : Navy Strength & Strong

Technically, all gin with more than 57.15% alcohol is a navy strength gin. The reason for the high alcohol content is a very practical one. Both gin and rum were stored in wooden barrels together with the gunpowder below deck on board Royal Navy ships. it was therefore very common for the ships to be rocked around by waves and the barrels would sometimes smash and the gunpowder would get wet. With a weaker spirit the gunpowder would struggle to ignite due to the high proportion of water. Therefore the Navy asked for a high strength spirit so if the gunpowder did get wet then the gunpowder would still ignite. Ideal if you still own a boat and cannon today!

GIN : Cask Aged

As we used to transport all drink in wooden casks or barrels the gins would take on the colour of the wood if rested for over a few weeks. It also makes the taste richer & more complex and modern techniques can infuse very interesting flavours via the wood.

A HISTORICAL, INDEPENDANT AND FAMILY-RUN FRENCH HOUSE OF CHAMPAGNE

The house Joseph Perrier was founded in 1825 and is the only house still making Champagne in Châlons-en-Champagne today. Created by Joseph Perrier, it is situated in a former coaching inn. Joseph Perrier quickly found success, especially abroad. His signature has been carried on by six generations from the same family, each one marking the House's history and destiny differently.

Joseph Perrier still exports 70% of production internationally, in-line with the House's traditions and founding values: a 57-acre wine estate, rooted in a local community, quality champagne, authenticity and mastery of century-old skills.

The result of the founders' legacy and the successors' ambitions, Joseph Perrier Champagne currently boasts several different "cuvées", notably the famous Cuvée Joséphine.

2	JOSEPH PERRIER, VINTAGE 2012 This Cuvée Royale Brut Vintage is the result of blending parcels of wine from 15 Grand and Premier Cru vineyards (54% Pinot Noir, 46% Chardonnay). To the eye bright and shiny gold colour. The first aroma is sweet, recalling the smell of home-baking. Once aired, spicy and peppery fragrances are revealed. Gentle first of all, followed by sweet sharpness and elegance. Complex yet balanced in the mouth with hints of camomille, dried apricots and dates. A delicate, mineral and refined length.	France	Champagne	12.0%	99.00
3	JOSEPH PERRIER, CÔTE À BRAS - BLANC DE NOIRS VINTAGE 2013 This vintage draws its essence from the conjuncture of exceptional meteorological events. The year was cool and rainy, giving our historical plot "La Côte à Bras" beautiful and juicy grapes. 100% Pinot Noir. A bouquet of fragrant dried flowers first of all, followed by the fruity aromas of peaches and ripe fruit jams. Aeration reveals gourmet hints of pomegranate and stewed strawberries. The flavour is more discrete, yet chiselled and forthright. The finish, long and complex.	France	Champagne	12.0%	130.00
4	JOSEPH PERRIER, CUVÉE JOSÉPHINE 2008 Cuvée Joséphine celebrates the touching story of Joseph Perrier, a father who, on the occasion of the wedding of his daughter Josephine, offered her the very best champagne he could make. For that occasion he designed the most beautiful hand painted bottle which was decorated with fine gold. Today's cuvée, named for Joséphine and celebrating our history, has only been made in the years 1982, 1985, 1989, 1990, 1995, 1998, 2002, 2004 and 2008. What Dom Perignon is to Moët, Josephine is to Joseph Perrier. A Prestige Cuvée of elegance and class.	France	Champagne	12.0%	300.00

7	PROSECCO, BRUT NATURE COL FONDO, ADAMI Col Fondo has been an icon tradition of Valdobbiadene for generations and has been a part of the Adami family history since the early 1900s. Grandfather Abele, first, and then his son Adriano, bottled their sparkling wine in the spring. When the heat came in May and June it caused the wine to re-ferment in the bottle, producing what has always been called vin col fondo." The resulting wine was never filtered or fined, keeping the naturally occurring sediment due to the secondary fermentation in bottle. With a slightly cloudy appearance and a brilliant and fine perlage, it is characterized by aromas of bread crust, fresh notes of citrus, white fruit and yeasty back note. The taste is light, very fresh and dry, with a lively palate.	Italy	Veneto	11.0%	40.00

11	JUNMAI GINJO SPARKLING SAKE, AKASHI TAI An innovative sparkling sake from Akashi-Tai. The Junmai Gingo designation indicates no alcohol was added after fermentation. Made using the traditional method, as used in Champagne, this is light, refreshing and reminiscent of Moscato d'Asti. A delicious aperitif. A clean nose with light hints of citrus fruits. The palate is well-balanced, light fruit notes with hints of citrus and melon. Crisp and refreshing finish.	Japan	Hyogo	7.0%	30cl	37.00
12	OFFSHOOT - PET NAT - SAUVIGNON BLANC, HUNTER'S Pétillant Naturel (pet nat) translates to naturally sparkling. To achieve carbonation, Hunters bottle the wine while it is still fermenting and close the bottle with a crown seal. The yeast continues to ferment the sugars, producing carbon dioxide that becomes trapped in solution. The wine is cloudy as there is no filtration prior to bottling, kind of like a pale ale beer. The sediment at the bottom of the bottle is the dead yeast cells that settle once the fermentation process has completed. Hunters used Sauvignon Blanc because it is a variety that is full of character, especially when grown in Marlborough. This Pet-Nat provides a little glimpse at the type of wine Winemakers are used to tasting in the winery, before wines are prepared for bottling. Lasting grapefruit and citrus characters dominate the nose. The palate is fresh and juicy with stonefruit and green apple notes that linger on the back palate.	New Zealand	Marlborough	7.0%		40.00

46	MARSANNAY BLANC, VALLET FRERES Traditional practices have remained relatively unchanged both in the vineyard and cellar since Vallet-Frères formation in 1864. Rigorous grape selection and no destemming (Vallet, like Domaine de la Romanee-Conti are just one of a number of producers who still favour this technique). Creamy oak notes on the nose are overlaid with lemons and hints of cloves and vanilla. Surprisingly but pleasantly taught and savoury on the palate; the lemon zings through and the acidity is well judged. This proves emphatically that you do not have to fork out huge sums on the famous villages of Meursault & Puligny Montrachet to get white Burgundy of great depth and complexity.	Ve	France	Rhone	12.0%	55.00

51	CHATEAUNEUF DU PAPE BLANC, CHANTE CIGALE Domaine Chante Cigale, located within the village of Chateauf-neuf-du-Pape, has been owned and operated by the Sabon Favier family for several generations. Despite Chateauf-neuf being known for its red wine production, the area also crafts award winning white wines. The Domaine Chante Cigale produces 5 times more white wine than the other producers in Chateauf-neuf and it's Chateauf-neuf-du-Pape Blanc has won several gold medals in Orange and Paris. Deeply coloured with fine, fresh aromas of ripe pear and white peach. 52	ART SERIES CHARDONNAY, LEEUWIN ESTATE " THE ICON From an excellent vintage – warm, with very few hot days – this muscular yet lithe Chardonnay suffuses the senses with Leeuwin Estate's clear and penetrating signature perfume of granular pear and fleshier fresh fig. Harmonious lemony acidity makes for an ultra-long, seamless finish, through a palate of acacia, lanolin, smoke and crème patisserie. The concentrated fruit effortlessly mops up the 100% new oak. A luminous, graceful and balanced powerhouse." Wine Spectator 97 Points This impressive white is complex, supple and elegant, though not shy on intensity. Opens with creamy, satiny notes of apricot, pear, lemon curd and passion fruit puree, with touches of toasted hazelnut, salted caramel, jasmine and green tea. The way the details mingle with and complete one another makes this as complex as it is refreshing, with a fresh thread of acidity weaving in and out. Drink now through 2036. 61	MANDILARI PGI ROSÉ, AYRARAKIS White vinification. The skins are removed at the beginning of the fermenting process. Greece	Crete	13.0%	25.00
62	PROVENCE ROSE, ST VICTOIRE, MAS DE CADENET The Mas de Cadenet is located in a breathtaking landscape at the bottom of the Sainte Victoire Mountain, near Aix-en-Provence. This scenery was a never ending inspiration for the Master of Impressionism, Paul Cézanne. So we could say that the "pictureperfect" Estate is like a painting! The vine is inextricably linked to the land's History as demonstrated by the fragments of amphorae dating back to Roman Times found on the property. But the history of the Mas de Cadenet starts in 1813 when the Negrel Family acquires the Estate. The Mas de Cadenet is emblematic of Provence. It is a longstanding "Love Story" between a family and its land. Today Guy Negrel runs the Estate with the help of his children Maud and Matthieu Negrel. The vineyard is on a south facing plateau, 250 meters above sea level. Five hectares are in the Côtes de Provence Appellation and forty hectares are on the subappellation Côtes de Provence of Sainte Victoire. The Mas de Cadenet produces 60% of rosé wines, 30% of red wines and 10% of white wines. The grape varieties grown in the vineyard are Rolle, Syrah, Grenache, Cinsault and Cabernet-Sauvignon. The yield of the vines is naturally kept low and ensures high quality wines (45hl/ha on average). Their Mas de Cadenet Rose is clear and pale. Red fruits on the nose. The Palate is lively with layers of gooseberry & fruit drops. A delectable wine best served at 10°C.	Org	France	Provence	13.0%	38.00

Orange

70	SOLARA ORANGE WINE, CREMALA RECAS Refreshing like a white wine, with the complexity of red wine. This orange wine is made by leaving the grape skins and seeds in contact with the pressed juice, creating a deep orange-hued finish. The wine ferments naturally without the addition of yeasts, sulphur or any other additions. The different varieties are then blended and before a natural cold stabilisation, and bottled unfiltered and unfined. Dark straw colour with orange hints, the nose is a delicate mélange of quince, poire william and a hint of vanilla. A complex and structured wine, with elegant but discreet fruit flavours of stone fruits, backed up with a powerful tannin structure and long finish. A natural minimal intervention wine which is well balanced and structured yet pure and incredibly fresh.	Ve	Romania	Vrancea	12.5%	25.00
71	GRUNER VELTLINER-ORANGE WINE-WINZER KREMS In Krems, winemaking goes back more than 2,000 years. So it's safe to say that Winzer Krems, one of Austria's most significant producers, is a project that honours tradition and exceptional quality. Their Grüner Veltliner is a deep gold colour, from its time spent in contact with its skins. Discover complex flavours of pepper and honey, with a fresh finish.		Austria	Kremstal	13.0%	29.00
72	POMELADO-ORANGE WINE, DOMINIO DEL PUNCTUM Pomelado is made from the Sauvignon Blanc white grape variety, but vinified like a red one. The juice from the grapes is left in contact with the skins to absorb colour, flavours and tannins. The result is a really interesting wine at the crossroads of red wine for tannins and white wine for acidity. The vineyard site in the province of Cuenca in central Spain, sits at an altitude of 800m above sea level where it receives plenty of sunlight and cool nights from the Continental & Mediterranean climate. This skin contact wine has lovely savoury notes of bruised apple, Brazil nuts and dried orange rind.	Bio Ve	Spain	Cuenca	13.0%	34.00

What Is Orange Wine?

While the lovely amber hue may suggest otherwise, orange wine is not made from oranges, nor is it artificially colored, nor is it a type of wine cocktail. Orange wine is all natural! It's made by leaving the skins on white grapes during fermentation. While orange wine may be new to you, it's actually been kicking around for centuries. Wine academics suspect orange wine was first enjoyed in Georgia, Europe, way back in 6000 B.C. (which is also thought to be the birthplace of wine as we know it).

Over thousands of years, orange wine fell into obscurity. But a recent resurgence started around 20 years ago and wine lovers everywhere rediscovered this unusual style of wine. While Georgian, Slovenian, and Italian orange wines are the most well known, new world wine regions, such as Australia, South Africa, and New York in the United States are producing some really exciting orange wines. The technical term for this wine style is skin-contact wine, due to how these gloriously golden wines are made.

How Is Orange Wine Made?

Just like red, white, sparkling and rose wine, orange wine is made from pressing and fermenting grapes. However, what is different with orange wine is the state the grape is in when it is processed. To make white wines, winemakers remove the skins and pips from the grape before pressing them into a juice. This removes a lot of the naturally occurring tannins, but also dictates the color. Without grape skins, the grape juice will produce white wine. This means that many of your favorite white wines are made from red or black grapes. Take Champagne for instance, this iconic white sparkling wine comes from a mix of Chardonnay grapes, Pinot Noir & Pinot Meunier grapes. Now, to make red wine, winemakers leave the grape skins on during production. This creates wines that are higher in tannins but are also deeply red in color. This is also how rosés are created, except winemakers leave the grape skins on for a much shorter amount of time, resulting in wines with a pretty pink color.

Orange wines, or skin-contact wines, are created using white grapes with their skins on. This means that, while the crushed grapes are fermenting, they take on a more tannic quality from their skins and pips, but also a deeper color. Most skin-contact wines are more of a golden yellow than an actual orange, but some result in bright amber wine.
